TARIFF DEBATE BEGUN IN THE SENATE.

OPENING WITH A DEFENCE.

WHOSE SERVANT HE IS.

From The Commercial Advertiser.

Mr. Voorhees does not happen to be either a Western Populist or an ex-Confederate brigadier-general, but he speaks his piece in behalf of both as their servant.

A BILL WITH NO STANDING.

From The Pittsburg Dispatch.

A bill concerning which its official manager has to confess that its sole pretence to principle is thrown away in order to secure its passage is condemned at the very outset. Tariff reform under such circumstances becomes tariff favoritism of the Tarkert description.

A DISHONEST SILENCE.

From The Hartford Courant.

According to Chairman Voorhees, the man who so much as doubts the wisdom and equity of an income tax levied upon a comparatively small class of citizens is not in the true Democratic faith. Yet there wasn't one word of such a tax in the Democratic National platform of ixe—the platform on which Mr. Cleveland was elected. There wasn't a hint of it. It is an after-thought, and the Democratic Congress borrowed it from the Populists. Voorhees's silence about this obligation is explicable enough, but it isn't candid and it isn't honest.

A SIGNIFICANT CONTRAST. From The Baltimore American.

Senator Voorhees's impassioned appeal for free wool will be contrasted by intelligent people with his very lame defence of that portion of the tariff bill which enables the whiskey trust to sell all of the product now in bond at a large advance on present rates, with the reservation of an appeal to Congress at the proper time—some three years hence, for instance—for a reduction in the tax which the bill imposes upon the future product.

NOTES OF THE STAGE.

Edward Harrigan will be seen to-morrow evening as Dan Muiligan in "The Muiligan Guards' Ball" at the Harlem Opera House. The cast of charac-ters is a large one, including all the company. The popular and familiar music of Dave Braham, amply represented in "The Mulligan Guards' Ball," amply represented in "The Mulligan Guards' Ball," is always fully enjoyed. Among the selections are "The Pitcher of Beer," "Nellie After Five," "Down on Gossip Row," "The Little Widow Dunn," "The Skidmore Fancy Ball" and "Babies on Our Block," Miss Hattle Madison, formerly one of the "daily hints from Paris" in "142," died in Buffalo yesterday. She attracted some public attention a few months ago by her marriage to Henry V. Stoll, of Boston, which occurred at the Little Church Around the Corner just after the two had dired with three or four friends, the marriage having been agreed on and arranged in the course of the dinner.

The first consignment of the players and panto-mimists who are to begin their engagement at Ab-bey's Theatre on April 23, with "Cinderella," left England on Saturday on the Berlin. Over sixty of the people are comins. Among them is Miss El-laine Terriss, the daughter of William Terriss, of Henry Irving's company. Miss Terriss will have the part of Cinderella, which she played in London, and in which she made a hit at the Lyceum. Os-car Barrett, who composed the music for "Cinder-ella," is coming to superintend the production at Abbey's.

Theatre, Theodore Moss having given the use of the house on Friday, April 13. The attractions offered will consist of Mr. and Mrs. Kendal in a one-act play, loke Division of Mr. John Drew and Miss Maude Adams in a one-act play, J. E. Dodson in a humorous recitation, Fritz Williams in a musical monologue, and the Lyceum Company, with Miss Cayvan, in a new one-act play.

Other interesting features will be added. The Fund's annual benefits have always been interesting occasions. None was given in this city last year, owing to the fair of a year before, but the demands upon this charity in the last year have been so numerous that entertainments are provided this season in several of the principal cities.

PERUS UNSETTLED STATE.

GEN. CACERES SAID TO HAVE PRO-CLAIMED HIMSELF DICTATOR.

SENOR DEL SOLAR, THE PIRST VICE-PRESI-DENT, HAS FLED - THE SECOND VICE-PRESIDENT A CREATURE OF CACERES -THE LATTER OPPOSED BY THE PEOPLE.

Lima, Peru, April 3.-Ex-President Caceres has been proclaimed Dictator of Peru. Congress and the people are hostile to Caceres, but the army is with him. He was one of the candidates for the Presidency. The city is in possession of the troops, who are supporting Caceres, and it is reported that Senor del Solar, the legal President, is a fugitive. The banks are closed and all business is suspended. The soldlers are patrolling the streets.

The present political situation in Peru will be better understood after explaining that in Spanish-American Republies there are two Vice-Presidents, called First Delegado, or Delegate, and Second Delegado. In case of the Pre and death or inability to wrive, the First Delega Decomes de jure President; and if he cannot fin that post, the Second Delegado becomes the constitutional President. When General Bermudez was elected in April, 1880, the voters chose at the same time Señor A. del Solar first and Colonel Borgono second Vice-President. Solar first and Colonel Borgono second Vice-President.

Now the official term of the late President Bermudez was to end on August 10, 1894, but the Presidental elections were to take piace on April 1. It appears that they have been postponed; at any rate the lawful successor of General Bermudez, for the rest of his term should have been Señor del Solar, the First Vice-President. But he is said to have fied through fear of General Caceres. The Second Vice-President, Colonel Borgono, is represented to be a creature of Caceres, and it would be of little use for the latter to proclaim himself Dictator, as reported in the dispatenes, as his friend Borgono would probably remain in power only until elections could be held and General Caceres be only elected. This result is quite probable, for he is regarded as a great patriot, having been the last to lay down his arms after the war against Chili. General Caceres has already been President of Peru, just before Bermudez's term. He was then appointed Peruvian Minister to England and France, and he passed throngs New-York two years ago on his way back to Peru, where he wanted to be in order to prepare for the electoral campaign, which will soon take place.

counted a rich man. Where did their money come from?

Mr. Langbein read from a little memorandum book an array of figures to show that there was raised by Tammany Hail for the election of 183 54,150,000 Mr. Croker, as chairman of the Finance Committee, handled the money. The sum of £00,000 had been paid in by Governor Flower's friends, and everybody knew that the 10,000 liquor dealers of New-York had not contributed less than an average of $100 cach, which would make $1,000,000. The $13,-100,000 more, With other sources, the total would easily reach the vast sum he had named. Haif of it stuck to the fingers of Mr. Croker and has associates.

John D. Townsend was the next speaker. He attacked the political record of Mayor Gilroy and defended his former arraignments of Tammany Hail. Other speakers were William A. Gans, Alexander Bremer, Rubbi Radni and Julius Harburger.

Howard Wainwright and Mathew Morgan were elected and Wainwright and Mathew Morgan were elected members. It was resolved to open the regattas of the club this year to a long list of clubs, among them the New-Rochelle Yacht Club. For the last two or three years there has been some friction between the New-Rochelle and the Seawanhaka yacht clubs because of a conflict of dates for their annual regattas. The difference has been settled and this year each club will admit the other's boats in its regatta. The question of leaving the present city clubhouse was discussed and the affair put in the hands of a committee. If the clubhouse in East Thirty-second-st. is given up another will be secured.

when, in order to get more advantage out of the post-tion, I changed my line of attack completely. The funda-mental differences of the two treatments consisted in the early castling on the Queen's side, and playing move, like P-K B 3 first would have greatly solidified my although I could have won one of them back by 20 B-B 3, I preferred to go on with my attack. Apparently Black interrated the game, otherwise he would have 21 R.-K.B. 89. Perhaps my twenty-third move was un-expected to him. When I sacrificed a third pawn, he did not see his way clear to accept this offer, because I would not see his way clear to accept this offer, because I would have forced an open King's rock's file.

On Steinitz's thirty-second turn I expected K-B sq. whereupon again B-B 5 would have left me with good chances for a draw, as the bishop could not well be taken on account of K R-Kt sq. My opponent preferred to play P-K B 3 instead, which was a triffe risky. In consequence, I held a very strong position, which should have been a warning for Black not to attempt to force the win. In the end Black's winning chances were almost applicated, if indeed, White had not the best of the bar-
